Student Spotlight: Uday Arora

Music has proven to be an emotional outlet for many, including me . I started playing the piano at the young age of 11 and haven't stopped since. At first, playing the piano did not seem exciting enough, but the minute my fingers touched its keys, I knew it was something I would grow to love; and I did.

“

Jane Austen once said “without music, life would be blank to me” and I couldn't agree more.

UDAY ARORA

Playing the piano has taught me perseverance, determination, and confidence. It has challenged me to improve every day whether it be through practicing on my instrument or jamming with fellow artists. Playing the piano inspires me to better myself in other aspects of my everyday life.

Football & Basketball League

(Hostel friendly match)

Tensions flared as the players positioned themselves on the pitch. Both the 11th and 12th graders knew that this was their golden chance to prove themselves on the field. The 11thies began strong, scoring a goal in the first half; but the second half was where the game became neck to neck. The half was filled with intense communication, gameplay and celebratory cheers, ending the game at 3-3. As the whistle blew, and the time for a penalty shootout approached; the audience remained glued to their seats. This match could be anyone's now. The thriller came to an end, declaring the 12th graders victorious.

This weekend, a football match wasn't the only one that the hostel experienced. Everyone gathered at the basketball courts for an exciting match. With determination coursing through their veins and a need to win, players approached the court. Students from all grades combined to make two highly competitive teams. Three matches were played between the two teams. Om, Geet, Pranav, Chirag, Daksh, Lakshya, Dev, Harshal and Aarav managed to come back from their ten point loss in the first match; and won the next two games by 4 points each. The team won the weekend.

JPIS'S VERY OWN 'CHOTA PACKET BADA DHAMAKA' !

This week turned out to be the most happening week at JPIS. Be it online or in school classes, there was never a moment where one could not see the excitement, enthusiasm and joy on the faces of the students as they delved deeply in bringing in the festive fervor of Diwali. Be it making paper lanterns, diyas and rangolie to decorate their houses or posters to create an awareness of celebrating an eco friendly Diwali or making eco friendly crackers our kids were above it all. Being responsible students and at the same time enjoying every moment to cherish each moment.

JPIS HEBDOMADAL WISHES YOU ALL A VERY happy diwali!
